DAVITT'S POSITION.

The Irish Leader Still Testifying Before the Parnell Commission

London, July 3.-Michael Davitt continued his testimony before the Parnell commission to-day. He stated he would not object to joining any movement to secure the independence of Ireland if such movement was backed by a force strong enough to justify the hope of success.

enough to justify the hope of success.

Davitt said he did not approve of the Clerkenwell explosion and he regretted the attack upon the prison van in which a brave policeman was killed, but applauded the men who made the attack for trying to save their friends while in prison. He concluded the movements by secret societles would do good and when released he held a conference with the leader of the Irish Republican brotherhood in Paris regarding the advisability of an open movement. Matt Harris, one of those with whom he conferred, had given permission for his name to be divulged, but at present the witness could not divulge the names of other Irish Republican brotherhood leaders without their permission. Chief Justice Hannen said Attorney-General Webster was entitled to press the question as to what others were present, but could not wait until the end of the examination to do so. Witness further said he failed to win the Irish republican brotherhood leaders to approve of the adoption of an open movement, with the exception of Harris. He intended to ruther said he failed to will the Irish republican brotherhood leaders to approve of the adoption of an open movement, with the exception of Harris. He intended to make the land question the stepping-stone to the independence of Ireland, treating the landlords as an English garrison. The league land programme, witness said, had now become the programme of the tory government. (Laughter.) Davitt refused to say whether or not James O'Kelly, member of the house, had been engaged to distribute firearms and declared he did not know whether the trustees of the skirmishing fund, Drs. Carroll and Breslin, Devoy. Burke and Rositt, belonged to the Clan-na-Gael. There is a hue and cry against the Clan-na-Gael in America for political purposes. Witness declared he must be careful of what he said, but he would say they are all extreme nationalists! Davitt said: "Parnell and I differ, because Parnell is opposed to complete separation, but if he got his measure through I would loyally support it. If he was successful, the demand for separation would eventually die."

the Opinion of the Northern Pacific Repriesentative.

BUTTE, July 3 .- | Special to the Independent.]-Considers ble of a sensation was created to-day when it became known that the Northern Pacifi e graders at work in the eastern part of the city had been or-dered to stop and that threats of violence had been made. Y esterday morning the Northern Pacific grayders broke ground on the Kemper additi on, across which the line had been surveyed. S. V. Kemper did not learn of this proceeding until last night, and this mo rning went down and notified the workm en to quit, as he did not consider they had, any legal right to go ahead. No violerice was used or threatened, but the workmen suspended operations at once and will wait for instructions from the legal department of the road.

This action has not been taken hurriedly, but after due consideration and consultation with leading lawyers we are confident of being able to maintain our position in court."

A visit was shortly afterwards paid to Mr. M. Fitzpatrick, of the Northern Pacific counsel. Mr. Fitzpatrick thought Mr. Kemper's action entirely unwarranted by according to his views, was acting entired; vides that a railroad may go into court, have appraisers of a right of way appointed and pay the assessed money into court. This says Mr. Fitzpatrick is just what the Northern Pacific has done, and he thinks it now rests with the court and the defendants in the proceedings to settle between them and the parties to whom the money belongs. The railroad company will take immediate action, it is understood, and he expects to have the work resumed at once. Lawyers here think Mr. Kemper's action clearly a contempt of court, but diverse opinions can be heard. Among small property holders on the proposed Northern Pacific line there is considerable feeling, and threats of violence toward the railroad employes in case they attempt to carry on their work are freely made.

CAUGHT IN A CAVE.

Two Miners Narrowly Escape Death the Nile Mine Shaft.

BUTTE, July 3 .- [Special to the Independent.]-At 3 o'clock this afternoon a cave occurred in the Nile mine, situated two miles west of Butte, near the Blue Bird. There is an old shaft on the property which ran down forty feet perpendicularly and then went off on an incline. The shaft was an old one and a lease was taken on it by two miners named Alexander and Johnson. They were working in the incline repairing the shaft when the mine caved from the surface to the depth of fifty feet. The trembling of the ground just before the cave warned them and they started for the ladder. Alexander got to within twenty feet of the surface, when he was caught by the falling earth and timbers. Johnson was twenty feet below Aiexander when caught.

Strange to say, both men were imprisoned and not crushed. An alarm was quickly given by neighboring miners, and the entire force and material of the Blue company were put at the work of rescue. Neighboring mines all sent men, and in ess than an hour all who could be employed with effect were working like madmen, sinking on the Nile, under the direction of one of the Blue Bird shift bosses. Communication was speedily opened up with Alexander, by means of tapping on the rock, and at 7:30 he was released and found to be unhurt. At this writing about one hundred men are from the legal department of the road.

He said: "We cherish no administry in regard to this matter whatever, but consider that we have certain Lights in the premises and are have certain Lights in the premises and are before he can be released

Another Great Deluge in Pennsylvania, This Time Flooding Johnstown's Sister, Cambria.

The Conemaugh Rising, Carrying Off Bridges, Houses and Furniture Saved from the Flood.

Distressing Scenes Attending the Wreck on the Norfolk & Western Road, Near Lynchburg, Va.

Johnstown, Pa., July 3.-The heavy rains of yesterday and last night flooded out five families in Cambria City. The water came pouring down the mountain last night and filled the first floors of houses, destroying all the furniture saved from the big flood. There was great alarm among the people over the condition of the Conemaugh river. The water rose five feet this morning in two hours and carried away a foot bridge above the Pennsylvania railroad station. There is danger of the temporary bridge erected by the company going out. Cars were run out on the bridge to save it, and at 10 o'clock this morning the abuttment began to sink. The temporary bridge erected at the lower end of the Gautier offices is almost a total wreck. Orders were given at Gen. Hastings' headquarters at 10 o'clock to get everything in shape for quick removal, as it was feared the tents would be washed away. At 11:30 it was thought that all danger had passed, when a fresh storm broke over the valley, the rain coming down in torrents. People fear the Conemaugh will yet sweep over its banks and flood the town.

Damaged by a Cloud Burst. TITUSVILLE, Pa., July 3 .- A terrific nderstorm passed over this city last evening, followed by two cloud bursts that caused a furious overflow of Church run, which winds through the city. From an insignificant stream the run turned into a furious torrent in a few minutes, coursing through the streets and filling cellars rising in some cases to the first stories of houses. Fully three miles of streets were looded, with over two feet of water on the sidewalks. Families along the line of the flood became frantic, and a number of rafts were built, on which women and children were taken to places of safety. The force of the water ripped up hundreds of feet of sewers. Roads in the surround-ing country were badly washed out. At East Titusville a number of residences were badly damaged. Several narrow escapes from drowning occurred in this city. The water poured dewn the side hills, northwest of the city, where the cloud burst occurred, in a perfect avalanche, sweeping all before it. What were fertile gardens are now a stony waste, and

Those who went down and were not killed outright were burned to death. Portions of eight bodies have been taken out, and it is believed fully fifteen othere were entirely consumed by the fire. DENVER, July 3 .- F. S. Lomax, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific at Omaha, this morning notified the Union Pacific and Denver & Rio Grande Denver offices of a notification he had received from the Chicago & Alton relative to a rate of $26 from Denver to Chicago. The Alton agrees to accept $7.85 as its share of all receipts on all tickets sold over their line. Mr. Lomax declares the Union Pacific will meet the cut, and that it will go into effect Monday, July 8, and he urged a similar rate from Colorado Springs on all tickets sold via the Rock Island and Alton. Chief Clerk Woodleigh, of the Rio Grande, told a reporter that the situation has not been dis-cussed, but all the eastern roads to Chicago will meet the cut. The Alton's latest action makes the fare from Chicago to Denver and vice versa the same, $20, or a reduction of $4 65.
